Councilmembers ground sand-removal project

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus councilmembers were still uneasy March 11 about granting a permit to a Plymouth resident who would like to implement a sand-removal project in the city.

Randall Emerick is looking to restore the property at 35196 Eureka Road from sand to fresh soil.

According to Emerick, the project would allow for drainage and seed.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry was concerned about preserving the land for future residents.

"I raised an issue whether or not this was clean soil," Raspberry said. "This is a six-month operation involving tons of soil. Our purpose is to protect the land for the future."

Councilman Fred Block questioned if the project allowed enough room for drainage.

"There is no place for the drainage to go," Block said. "There is a water problem standing along that road. I want my building department and (department of public works) to check this out more."

Mayor Beverly McAnally informed councilmembers that Emerick recently received a letter from city engineers listing the concerns and requirements that are necessary in order for the project to begin.

"There are a number of requirements, and they have got those things in place," McAnally said.

Councilman Ellis Pennington wanted to know what Emerick was planning on putting back in the 6- to 8-foot hole when he removes the sand.

"I'm very interested on what's going back in there," Pennington said. "I'm not going to take anyone's word that's not associated with the city. I'm afraid we're creating something out there we can't live with."

Councilman Russell Lambert was concerned about the water table near the project which could affect many residents.

Emerick informed councilmembers about 40,000 yards of sand would be removed, and the fill for the property would come from the airport.

Wayne County officials have expressed an interest in buying the property on Eureka, according to Emerick. He said the job has already been paid for, and County officials have already inspected the sand to see if there are any contaminants.

If Emerick receives a permit to remove the sand, he said the following will take place:

- Remove sand from the property and refill with clean natural earth.

- Ground water being pumped out will go to a ditch in front of the property to keep water from running back.

- Roads used will mainly be Eureka Road east to Airport and west Interstate-275 north or south.

- The type of trucks used will be four- and five-axle semi-dumps and gravel trains.

Councilmembers did not take any action on the matter March 11.

Police officer receives praise

Romulus police officer Kenneth Landstrom received praise from a visiting businessman who was robbed last month while having lunch in the city.

On Feb. 6, Richard McCulloch was returning from Metropolitan Detroit Airport after finishing a business trip and decided to stop for lunch in Romulus. As he was dining, his car was burglarized.

"Ten minutes after stopping for lunch the window was smashed and my briefcase was stolen from my locked car in the middle of the afternoon," McCulloch said. "Thanks to the involvement of a witness and the immediate and effective response of the Romulus police department, this tax-paying victim did get his money's worth."

As Landstrom began investigating, he didn't have much to go on in terms of the contents of the briefcase, according to McCulloch.

"As the police pursued the perpetrators, more information became available to them that they were able to use and act upon," McCulloch said.

Within one hour, Romulus police located the vehicle, apprehended the suspects and recovered the briefcase.

"Had there been any delay, this already painful incident would have been worse and my losses would have been substantially larger," McCulloch said. "The Romulus police have restored my faith in police officers. They exercised excellent judgment and resourcefulness in identifying the suspects and apprehending them."

McCulloch said it was refreshing to see the hard work police officers displayed in order to help the victim.

"I wish to thank the witness who came forward, all of the officers involved and especially officer Kenneth Landstrom for an excellent job well done," he said.

Company thanks fire department

Romulus Express Tool and Die Co. officials recently thanked the Romulus fire department for assisting with their efforts to save patriotism.

Recently, the Express Tool and Die Co. was in dire need of repair, which required the assistance of fire officials, according to General Manager Larry Wentz.

"For 21 years, Express Tool and Die Co. has had the benefit of being served by the finest fire department in the state," Wentz said. "At the time when rallying around the flagpole required equipment, we were unable to fly our colors."

"The Romulus fire department came to our rescue just like they did in the story books I read as a child. They fixed, hooked and restored the symbol of our patriotism once more. They also restored our faith in true American heroes — firemen."

Wentz thanked all the Romulus firefighters and Chief William Greenslaid for upholding an image that is an American tradition.

"Express Tool and Die Co. and all of its members wish to salute true American heroes," Wentz said. "Thank you for your support for so many years."

Commissioner resigns from post

ANP Staff Writer

A longtime Romulus planning commissioner has decided to resign.

Donald Treder, chairman of the planning commission for 14 years, was praised March 11 by Romulus councilmembers for his hard work and commitment to the city.

"Don Treder has been an asset to the community," Councilman Noah Bergeron said. "He has always been updated on the latest construction projects going on in the city and is extremely dedicated. I would like to have a resolution passed for Donald Treder for being an asset to the community."

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry echoed the sentiments of Bergeron, adding the experience Treder has brought to the planning commission as an engineer will be missed.

City officials and the entire community will miss Treder, according to Councilman Ellis Pennington.

"He's always been very knowledgeable as a member of the planning commission," Pennington said. "The city will miss him not only on the planning commission but also as a member of the board of appeals."

Councilmembers approved the appointment of Ken Berlinn to replace Treder. His term will expire Jan. 31, 1993.

Councilmembers also approved the appointments of William Crova and Jack Barton to the planning commission with terms to expire Jan. 31, 1994.

Business to close its doors

A Romulus business is shutting down after making a home in the community for five years. Horizon Enterprises Inc., a Taylor-based corporation, recently asked the State Tax Commission to rescind their abatement certificate for Heat Technologies Inc., which is situated in Romulus at 28111 Northline, according to Matthew Raftery, director of the city assessment department. "Since Horizon will be discontinuing this operation and disposing of the equipment and would no longer qualify for abatement, they have voluntarily requested cancellation of the certificate," Raftery said. Gregory Bird, vice president for Horizon Enterprises Inc., informed the Tax Commission that Heat Technologies didn't have the money to continue operating. "Even with the heavy capital investment put into the Heat Tech project and even with the help of Act 198, we faced a constant uphill battle in reaching financial stability with this operation," Raftery said. "We have shut down the furnace operation and will be liquidating this year." The facility has operated since 1986 as a subsidiary of Horizon Enterprises, providing heat treating services to manufacturing companies in the area. "It is our regret that we have to shut down the operation of our Heat Technologies," Raftery said.

Mayor asks governor to continue program

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally recently expressed her concerns by letter on state budget negotiations to Gov. John Engler. McAnally targeted the potential impact of losing local tax increment financing programs. "As you may be aware, elected officials and state representatives from over 50 Michigan communities met in Taylor Feb. 26 to discuss this very important issue," McAnally said. "We would like to join with those communities in our support for continuation of tax increment financing program, which have proven to be very successful in Romulus in facilitating substantial private investments and job creation." Two pieces of legislation, if passed, will have an immediate impact on the city TIFA and Downtown Development Authority, according to McAnally. "The bills SB 72 and HB 4244 provide for a revision in the method of calculation of the standard equalization valuation which would result in a reduction in tax increment captures flowing to our TIFA and DDA," McAnally said. "TIFAs and DDAs would be reimbursed by the state for these lost revenues only in amounts sufficient to satisfy current outstanding bond obligations." The bills present two problems for Romulus and other communities, according to McAnally. The first problem follows that the DDA has successfully used developer-financing methods rather than issue TIFA bonds to finance public improvements, according to McAnally. "Under this method, which has also been very successfully used by our TIFA, a contract is developed between the DDA and developer, which pledges future tax increment captures as reimbursements to the developer for public improvements needed to serve a private investment project," McAnally said. "The current bills do not provide for reimbursement to DDAs and TIFAs for the loss of revenues needed to cover these contractual pledges, and could perhaps require we default on our contractual obligations." The second issue related to the current legislation results from the specific financing structure for future public improvements contained in four adopted TIFA and DDA plans, McAnally said. "As you may be aware, we are allowed to pledge up to 80 percent of our tax increment capture as debt service," McAnally said. "Our TIFA and DDA plans call for reserving the 20 percent balance as well as the additional tax increment revenues generated by new development in order to finance additional public improvements committed by the plans." The loss of revenue would affect the ability of city officials to follow through on future public improvement construction projects where bonds haven't been issued. "The most severe impact would be in our Wick Road Development Area, located immediately north of I-94 from Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport," McAnally said. "As you are aware, TIFA's ongoing program, in addition to (Michigan Department of Transportation's) commitment to construct a new I-94 interchange at Vining Road, are critical to the success of the multi-million dollar Metro World Centre mixed-use development." McAnally asked Engler to consider the positive impact TIFAs will have on communities for future economic growth.

Educators finish study phase

Barth Elementary School teachers and administrators recently completed the self-study phase of the Michigan Accreditation Program, which began in January 1989. Barth was one of 100 schools participating in the statewide, four-phase study. The Barth faculty was instructed to individually evaluate the school on a variety of criteria including instructional programs, school facilities, community relations, faculty and staff qualifications and a school improvement plan, according to Barth Principal Harold Connon. "We're going to be having a visiting team coming to Barth April 9 and 10," Connon said. "The team is made up primarily of north and south regions with the principal from Warren as the leader." Results of the evaluation will be available in the late spring. Decisions regarding the outcome of the date will be available in the fall, after results from the visiting validation team are also complete. "It's a process where the validation team reviews and determines that what we say we're doing is being carried out," Connon said. The validation team will be reviewing the self-study phase as well as interviewing local school personnel. During fall 1991, local school personnel will use the data to develop a plan for improving areas of weakness and strengthening current outstanding programs within the school, Connon said.

The winners of the Romulus Substance Abuse Prevention Build a Bridge poster contest were honored with plaques and certificates at the March 4 council meeting. This is the second year Sandra Langley, chairwoman of Build a Bridge, worked in conjunction with the city drug task force created by Mayor Beverly McAnally. "Tonight we're honoring the winners and finalists," Langley said. "It's fascinating to see just how much our kids understand the importance of saying no to drugs." Elementary students from the Romulus school district participated in the event. McAnally assisted with the distribution of the awards while Langley instructed each student to present their award-winning posters to councilmembers. The inscription on the plaque is as follows: "Substance Abuse Program Build a Bridge Substance Abuse Drug Winner." "The contest was open to all the public elementary schools kindergarten through sixth grade," Langley said. "The students had about two weeks to make their posters. We judged the posters on Feb. 8." More than 30 students had posters mounted in Romulus City Hall for the Build a Bridge judges to rank first-place winners. Students designed various themes such as: "Drinking and driving is like playing with a loaded gun," "Pots are for cooking, not smoking" and "Put a lid on drugs." Winners were established in three different age groups: Lorie Boling from Hale Creek Elementary won first place for the K-2 category, Lisa Rozdoske from Cory Elementary won first place for the 3-4 grade category and Randy Olson from Barth Elementary won first place for the fifth grade category. Besides the plaque, the three winners also each received a $50 savings bond. "With this program, we're trying to promote the community and school involvement in drug awareness," Langley said. "We're eventually going to try and provide educational material on drug awareness and provide in-service workshops for the parents." Judges for the poster contest included: School Board member Dan Dales, Romulus police officers John Smagner and Terri Koski, Partnerships for Education Coordinator Ed Clark, Romulus Health Coordinator Kate Conway, Romulus School Superintendent William Bedell and McAnally. On April 25, Build a Bridge officials will be sponsoring the "High on Fashion" clothing show from Hudsons at Romulus Senior High School.

Soldier honored for achievements

Wayneland Aerie x4104 members recently honored Wayne resident Sgt. Robert J. Owens of the U.S. Marines as the member of the month for his outstanding achievements in the Persian Gulf. Owens, 27, was shipped out Jan. 5 with instructions to obtain the position of a Forward Observer, the individual who sets the coordinates for the bombs, on one of the U.S. naval ships, according to Owens mother Janice (Joy) Owens. "Robert has been with the Marines for about 10 years," Owens said. "He really enjoys the Marines and has already decided to sign up for life." Owens went through extensive combat training before being sent to the Gulf, which eases the worries of his mother just a bit. "It gives me a peace of mind to know he's had the training and that he has been with the Marines for 10 years," she said. Owens is stationed just outside of Kuwait, according to his mother. He is the only member of the Wayneland Aerie serving in the Gulf. Owens is a Wayne Memorial High School graduate of the Class of 1981. In 1984, Owens married Josephine. The couple has two sons: Robert Jr. and Johnathon. Don Assenmacher, vice president of the Wayneland Aerie, praised Owens for his dedication to serve in the United States. "To Bob goes all our prayers and best wishes for a speedy return and reunion here at 4104," Assenmacher said. "We salute Bob and all the Bobs that are holding our flag so high over there. May their wings take them to the highest heights, may they find their prey and return safely to their nest. "Wayneland is proud to honor Sgt. Robert Owens stationed in Saudi Arabia as our March member of the month." Now that allied forces established a cease fire for Operation Desert Storm Feb. 27, Mrs. Owens is hoping her son will come home soon.

Teachers nominated for awards

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Two Romulus Senior High teachers were recently nominated for the WDIV-TV Teacher of the Year award.

Science teacher Sheryl Stallings and Gail Coleman, a health education and physical education teacher, have been educating students for more than 20 years and deserve the recognition, according to Senior High Principal Tom Dolan.

"They were nominated by their peers," Dolan said. "Both are excellent teachers."

Stallings is a University of Michigan graduate with a degree in social studies. Her entire teaching career has been with the Romulus School District.

"I didn't start out teaching science," Stallings said. "I taught elementary English and a number of other classes. What I really love to teach is biology."

Stallings instructs mostly 10th-graders but is also involved with teaching college prep biology courses.

"My goal is to make biology as interesting and fun as possible for both the student and myself," Stallings said. "In fact, one student told me she liked biology so much that she is planning on specializing in genetics."

Stallings has taught biology for about 12 years. She is content with her position at the high school.

Coleman is an Eastern Michigan University graduate. Her first degree is in physical education and history. She also has a master's degree in junior high curriculum.

"Recently I established a fitness class for girls," Coleman said. "We only had one section this semester, and it was very popular. I think we're going to have two sections next year. The focus is on nutrition and learning about the importance of keeping fit."

Throughout the health education classes, Coleman tries to stress the importance of the students understanding their own bodies and minds in regards to keeping healthy.

What Coleman finds among the 1990s generation of students is a lack of stamina.

"We're trying to build the stamina by instilling good behavior and the importance of eating right and exercising," Coleman said.

Romulus Senior High School is one step ahead of other public high schools in Michigan in regards to keeping fit, according to Coleman. The Senior High is also the only one in the state which has a Drug Abuse Resistance Education program.

An Ordinance to amend Chapter 35 of the Code of Ordinances by the addition of an Article VII for the purpose of requiring the reimbursement for expenditures made by the City in responding to motor vehicle crashes and/or making arrests involving drivers who were operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while ability to so operate was impaired due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN DOES HEREBY ORDAIN:

Section 2: Chapter 35 is hereby amended by the addition of a new Article to be known as Article VII providing for restitution by impaired drivers.

ARTICLE VII: REIMBURSEMENT FOR COSTS INCURRED
Section 35-850 PURPOSE

The City Council finds that a significant number of motor vehicle crashes and arrests within the City involve persons who were operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s). The City Council also finds that in such motor vehicle crashes as described, there exists a greater likelihood of personal injury and property damage. The City Council also finds that as a result of these incidents, a greater financial burden is being placed upon the resources of the City and its Police, Fire, Public Service and Rescue resources by persons who are operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while impaired.

Section 35-851-855 RESERVED.

A. Emergency Response shall include:

1. The providing and/or utilizing of public services including Police, Fire, Rescue and Public Works Services at the scene or as a result of a motor vehicle crash where one (or more) of the drivers was operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while impaired; or,
2. The effecting of a traffic stop and physical, custodial arrest by a police officer when the arrested person was operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while impaired.

2. Should the Court order, as a part of the criminal sanctions imposed, any period of incarceration, the costs assessed to the City for the housing, care, feeding, security and all other requirements necessitated by the incarceration.

(A) Any person who, while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while ability to do so is impaired by either the consumption of intoxicating liquor or the use of a controlled substance(s), or any combination thereof, shall operate a motor vehicle in a manner which results in an emergency response as defined in Section 35-856, shall be liable to the City for the expenses of the emergency response provided.

(B) For the purpose of this Article, it shall be presumed that the driver involved was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or his ability to operate was impaired if a chemical analysis of his/her blood, breath or urine indicates the concentration of ethyl alcohol in his/her blood was .07% or greater, by volume.

Section 5: Section 35-858

This Article shall serve to fix responsibility and place liability on the driver for such expenses incurred. The liability shall be civil in nature and shall not be construed as an enhancement or enlargement of any penalty imposed by a judge subsequent to a finding of criminal liability, including any fines, costs, state judgement fee or costs of probation and/or alcohol awareness programs assessed as part of a criminal penalty.

Section 6: Section 35-859 SEVERABILITY
Should any clause, sentence, paragraph, sub-section or section of this Article be declared void or otherwise invalid, for any reason, by any court, such declaration shall not affect any portion of this Article other than the part specifically declared to be void.

Credibility sought by new state government

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Credibility in state government is the goal of the new administration, according to state Sen. Mat J. Dunaskiss of Lake Orion.

"The word 'credibility,' when connected with state government, has become almost an oxymoron, but we plan to change that," said Dunaskiss at the March 11 Legislative Forum sponsored by the Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce.

Dunaskiss assumed the role of guest speaker when Senate Majority Leader Dick Posthumus was unable to speak to the group of area business and political leaders because of other commitments in Lansing.

The senator noted Gov. John Engler has recently come under fire for his credibility. During the pre-election campaign, Engler had promised to downsize state government and reduce the deficit through spending cutbacks, Dunaskiss said. Now that plans for the needed cutbacks are being outlined, the governor is being criticized for carrying out his intention or, in other words, his credibility.

"In these first nine weeks, we are getting out our message and we are moving forward," Dunaskiss said.

With anticipated 1991 revenues much lower than the current $7.6 billion state budget and a 1990 deficit of $300,000,000, drastic cuts are necessary, the state senator said.

Dunaskiss noted between 28 and 32 percent of the state budget is in the general programs portions of the general fund.

"Michigan is generous to the Department of Social Services, allocating 35 percent more than the national average. Still, we have severe problems," Dunaskiss said. "For example, we have mothers on crack (cocaine) delivering babies, and we have not found money in budget for the services to solve the problem. Yet, general assistance is available for able-bodied single adults, and their money is not cut off in the summer when seasonal work is available."

Dunaskiss said state funds are not available to fund all of the programs that ask for funding.

"Michigan ranks in the top five or six states in providing money for the arts. In 1975, Gov. William Miliken granted an $3.5 million equity package to the city of Detroit to fund the museums, libraries and zoo. From that point, it continued to grow. In 1984, the arts grants had expanded to 17 other communities and 635 different projects at a cost of $30 million,"

Dunaskiss said, noting the upward spiral of arts funding is no longer economically feasible for the state.

With cuts to some programs, property taxes can be cut, the deficit can be reduced and aid to the schools can be increased, Dunaskiss said.

"Yes, we can cut property taxes and the deficit. That's the role we want to do," he said.

Parade to honor Gulf warriors

The Allied Veterans of Wayne will be conducting a support march and rally for servicemen and women stationed in the Persian Gulf April 7.

The march will begin at 1 p.m., according to Anna M. Hensley Jr., vice commander of the Western Wayne County Allied Veterans Council.

"It will start at Wayne Memorial High School, and then will go down Glenwood to Wayne Road and then to the Veterans Memorial," Hensley said.

Hensley is also organizing the annual Wayne-Westland Memorial Day Parade May 27. Anyone interested in lending a helping hand can call Hensley at 728-8412.

"On May 27, the parade will start at 10 a.m. from the Kmart plaza at the corner of Wayne and Cherry Hill roads," Hensley said. "The parade will then proceed south on Wayne Road to the Wayne park and Veterans carillon."

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to root-er your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at:

The band plays on - but for how long?

How long will the celebration last? For how long will there be parades, brass bands and welcoming crowds at the airports when our servicemen and women return home from the Persian Gulf?

While we have rejoiced with each of the televised reunions and parades we have seen, we cannot help but wonder if there will be the same celebration when the last of our armed forces members returns in six or seven months. When we see the wonderful, joyous crowds packing the airports and hear President Bush laud our troops as heroes, we cannot suppress the niggling doubt and fear that all of these servicemen and women will not be equally honored when they come home.

The yellow ribbons in several locations have already begun to show signs of wear and tear and the rigors that Mother Nature has perpetrated on these symbols of support and remembrance of our troops. Already, there seems to be less of a crowd, fewer members of the band and somewhat diminished enthusiasm at the welcoming celebrations.

To families who have waited months for the return of these men and women, there can be no lessening of enthusiasm and joy, but for those who have not been personally touched by the absence of one of these men or women, apathy can easily set in.

We would urge those groups who placed the yellow ribbons to protect and replace them. We would suggest that all of us keep the flags which have suddenly become so prominently displayed in place. The tide of patriotism and national pride which has emerged during the conflict in the Persian Gulf should not diminish or vanish because some of our men and women have returned home.

Each of them deserves to be honored upon returning to the country which sent them to face death. Each of them deserves a heroes welcome, no matter if they return in a month or several months. They each participated and they each in one way or another served their country.

There are still those who feel that the deployment of troops into the desert was wrong. But even among these people, there is no question of the honor and celebration each of those who served in this war deserves.

No matter the degree of involvement or the political persuasion, we urge everyone to remember the service of these men and women and to join in the celebration of their return, no matter how long that may take or when it may be. They, after all, will never forget.

Taking a step in the right direction

Local municipalities complaining about lack of growth and retail development might well follow the example of Van Buren Township.

Recently township officials played host to 20 real estate salespeople and brokers urging them to consider Van Buren when discussing sales with potential buyers. The township spokespeople attempted to answer questions about the area for residential and commercial buyers and explain many advantages of the area which may not have been obvious to the real estate representatives.

In short, they made it very clear that new development will be welcomed in the township and that they would take whatever steps possible to pave the way for improved cooperation and communication between the township and developers.

We applaud their efforts. It is no secret to anyone observing this area that Van Buren Township will, within the next decade or so, be one of the most highly sought-after areas in Wayne County. That the administration in the municipality is forward-thinking and observant enough to both anticipate and welcome that development is a mark of the excellent future of Van Buren Township.

Taxpayers are upset

Members of the Wayne County Taxpayers Association have been very upset over the recent actions of the State Board of Canvassers with regard to the petitions circulated by Taxpayers United for Assessment Cuts. We feel that any further delay in allowing the issue to be debated and voted on by the legislature or, alternatively, the citizens of the State of Michigan is a breach of faith with the intent of our State Constitution.

Arbitrary and capricious restrictions in judging the validity of the signatures has placed in harms way the rights of the individuals of this state to exercise the sovereignty guaranteed to them under the constitution.

While we are pleased with Gov. John Engler's efforts to reduce State spending and trust that cuts will continue in areas which have not been addressed, we are disappointed that he has chosen to initiate his own property assessment reduction proposal. We feel that this proposal will not bring about the necessary relief to the taxpayers of this state and, in some cases, will result in higher taxes.

We are sure you have heard all the arguments for and against his proposal. Rather than reiterate them, we would like to encourage Governor Engler to once again support our petition in principle and reality. We would like him to join with us again, as he indicated he would before his election, and take those steps that are within his power to keep faith with some of those who elected him, and do what he can to insure that this proposal is brought before the legislature.

Rose Bogaert
Chairwoman, Wayne County Taxpayers Association

Who do you blame now?

When is enough enough? Was it yesterday's news that told how five fifth-grade boys raped one little girl in Florida?

Years ago, when the anti-authority revolution took the forefront of the news, it was decided by our youth to chuck all of the old values. Any idea that remotely smacked "morality" was not only discarded but was something to be challenged and fought. But with disastrous effects.

The resulting problems (which those antiquated "values" and "morality" guarded against) developed into nationwide crises. The "IF IT FEELS GOOD, DO IT" mindset was introduced into the educational system under the guise of "freedom," "choices," "child's rights," "behavior modification," "values clarification" and "decision making skills." The bottom line is it did not work. The use of alcohol and drugs skyrocketed, with the resultant increase in juvenile crimes. The type of sex education which was introduced and taught in our schools precipitated an astronomical increase in the number of teen pregnancies (with the resultant abortions and damaged lives), AIDS cases and other sexually transmitted diseases.

As each batch of alarming statistics was published, the all-wise education department proposed more of the same. Suppose you had a nagging headache, and the doctor gave you a prescription. It didn't work. Your headache got worse. Each day he prescribed an increased dosage of that same medicine which made your headache unbearable, and the side-effects are destroying you completely. Would you not discontinue that medicine or change doctors?

The current sex-education courses not only encourage early-teen sexual activity, but provide the "how-tos" in extremely explicit movies, pictures and class discussions. When concerned parents object or want to remove their kids from the classes, we are labeled "radical extremists" who oppose "academic freedom." And parents don't have the funds to protect themselves against the attacks of the NEA.

Children need the security of boundaries, and guidance with the words "good and bad" and "right and wrong." "Situation ethics" just don't cut it. They need "absolutes" like consequences, responsibility, commitment, honesty, integrity, respect. All those words have been systematically deleted from school curricula.

All is not well

It seems that lately every time I read the Romulus Roman the mayor and a councilman are listing all the good things about the injection well.

The mayor and the councilmen insist on calling the hazardous waste well an injection well. Sure its an injection well and into this well toxic, hazardous and deadly substances will be injected. An example of these substances are poisonous, flammable liquids, radioactive materials, explosives and spontaneously combustible materials.

Belleville whallops Ypsilanti

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

The Belleville Express went through Wyandotte Roosevelt High School on Tuesday night.

The Braves were the latest in a long string of victims of the Tigers' 23-1 season. Belleville defeated the Braves 89-59 in the regional semifinals.

The win gives the Tigers a date Friday night at the regional final championship game.

The Tigers are proving to be strong finishers. They held a slight five-point lead at the half, but turned it up in the second half. The Tigers qualified for the regionals by beating Romulus in the districts by 20 points, the bulk of that spread coming in the second half also.

The Tigers have outscored their last two opponents by a combined score of 50 points.

Ypsilanti couldn't have expected such a poor third quarter, given the close first half. But how could they have expected the Tigers to rip off 12 straight, unanswered points in the third quarter?

As the playoffs continue and opposition improves, the Tigers seem to be turning up their game.

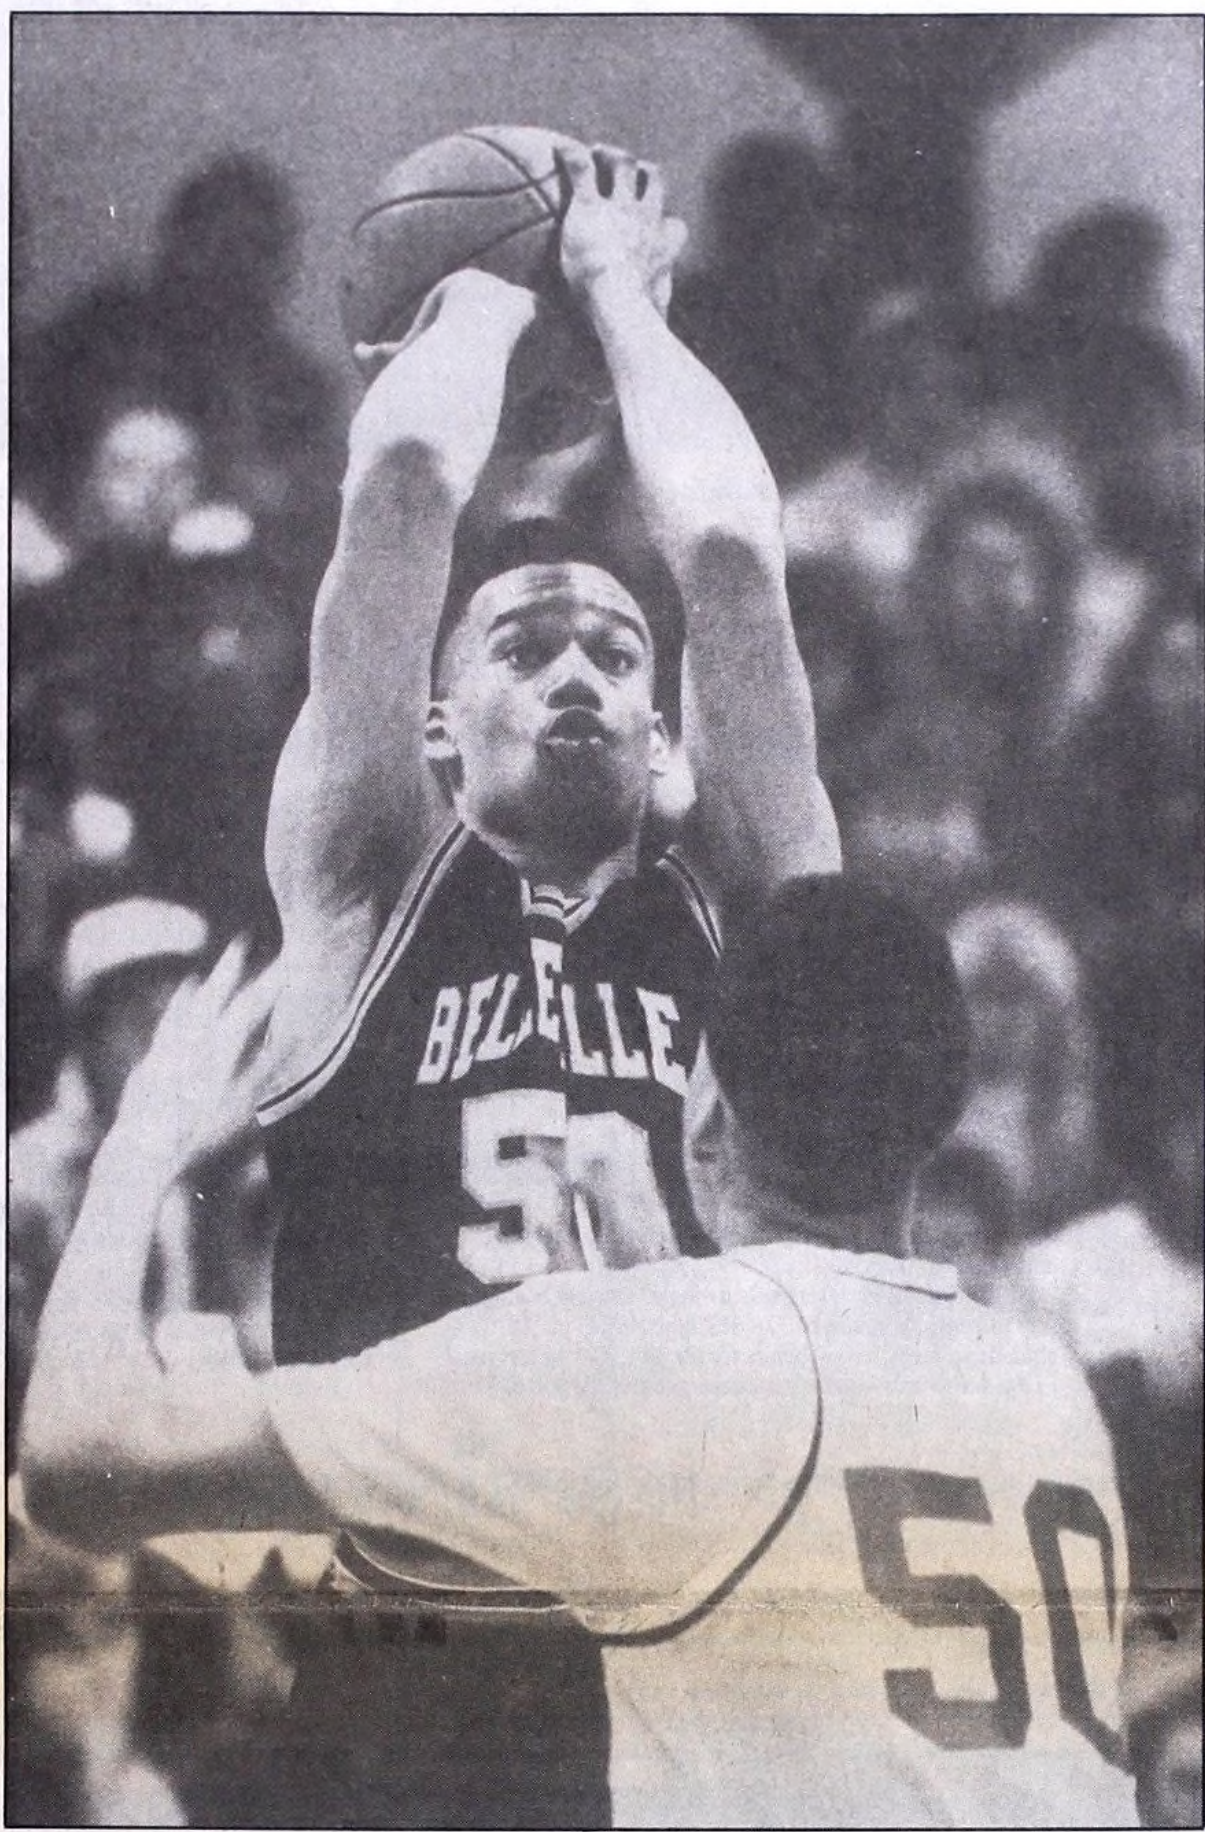

They have improved on their formula for success with each game.

Again it was the inside game which carried Belleville to victory.

Senior forward Ron Hunter was high man for the Tigers with 25 points, but he had plenty of help. Senior forward Derrick Boles contributed 15 and point guard Rod Hill added 11.

If you ask Coach Mike Garland about the success of his team, he talks about defense.

"Defense has been our trademark all year, and it carried us through again tonight," Garland said.

Shough named head track coach

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Jess Shough, who teamed up with Joe Grasley in the former Cherry Hill School District to field some of the top women's and men's track teams in the area for nearly two decades, was named last week as the new varsity head track coach at Westland John Glenn.

"It is a challenge that I am so very eager to begin," said Shough, who will replace coaching legend Richard Gordon.

Gordon coached the Rockets the past four seasons and also was at Cherry Hill for 20 years before the school district merged with Wayne-Westland schools.

Shough has served as an assistant to Gordon. The dynamic coaching duo captured four consecutive Western Lakes Athletic Association divisional championships and three WLAA conference titles.

Shough has also served as the head cross country coach at Glenn.

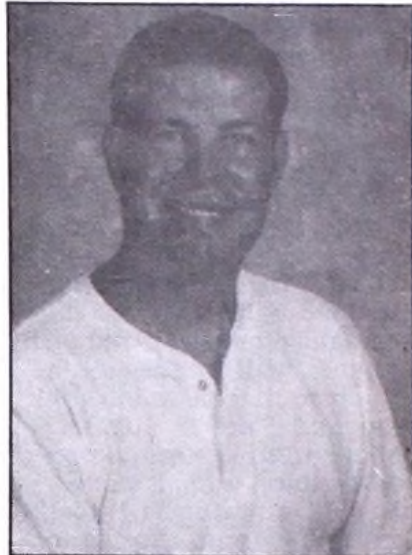

"There is a lot of work ahead," Shough said, "and it won't be easy."

The new coach and the Rockets will get their first taste of competition March 30 when they travel to Ypsilanti to compete in the traditional high school track and field opener, Eastern Michigan University Huron Relays.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Shough has been a physical education teacher at Cherry Hill High School. After 20 years of fielding Spartan teams, he was reassigned as a coach at John Glenn.

Shough knows what it takes to field championship-caliber teams. He guided the Cherry Hill women's team to two consecutive Tri-River Conference titles before the high school closed in 1986. While at Cherry Hill, Shough coached volleyball, basketball and baseball as well as track.

Despite the challenge of the pay-to-play program at Glenn,

Jess Shough

Shough said he was pleased with the turnout of athletes this season.

"We look forward to maintaining the great tradition that has been established in track here at John Glenn," he said.

Glenn teams have been undefeated in conference dual meets for the past four years.

Can the Rockets repeat this year?

"It will be tough," Shough said. "There's a lot of questions that have to be answered. But we are eager to give it a try."

The Rockets have a score of returning letter-winners. The list includes: Dave Arbour, Tony Donnelly, Ernest Green IV, Scott Henson, Jason Key, Jason Nowicki, Joe Rajewski, Joe Sopko and Jim Woloskie.

Also returning are junior letter-winners Robert Bloomfield, Carl Brooks, Brandon Buck, Mark Coleman, Ken Constantino, John Craven, Steve Emeigh, Jim Finch, Bill Griffiths, Terry Hower, Andy Hodge, Mark Kaiser, Brian Schultz, Robert Wilson and Clint Wright.

Shough's staff this season will include Tom Bridges and Jim Zurawski.

The Rockets have also picked their tri-captains for the season. They are Lamar Ellison, Chris Gumke and Randy Seach.

Auto-racing pioneer dies

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

George Cooper was a legend in the auto racing world in his time.

And his death on Thursday will leave a void that will not easily be filled.

The 67-year-old Cooper, a Michigan auto racing pioneer, died in Denver, Colo., after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Cooper was in Denver on business at the time of his death, according to Ron Drager of the Automobile Racing Club of America.

The longtime Wayne resident had set scores of early racing records during a career that began in early 1953.

Cooper was the first track champion at Flat Rock Speedway and went on to collect five more titles at the 1/4-mile paved oval south of Detroit.

Better known as "Coop," he started his career in motorcycle races, moving to roadsters, midgets, sprints and eventually stock cars.

Cooper competed in events on the Beach Course in Daytona and passed his Indy 500 Rookie Test in 1953.

He was a consistent winner in races at Flat Rock, Mt. Clemens Race Track, Motor City Speedway and the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

It is interesting to note of all Detroit-area race tracks, Flat Rock is the only facility still in operation.

Cooper set the MARC (ARCA) stock car qualifying re-

Wayne advances in volleyball playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Ann Kolnitys is hoping the old tune about The second time around being sweeter is true.

For the second time in a row, Kolnitys and her volleyball club from Wayne Memorial have reached the Class A state quarterfinals. The Zebras will play top-ranked Holland Ottawa High Friday night to determine which has the right to one of the two available semifinal berths.

The quarterfinals will be staged at 7 p.m. Friday in Kalamazoo at Nazareth College.

Holland will bring a phenomenal 65-0 record into the duel against the Wayne spikers who, after cleaning up in their regional, are sporting a 41-5 record.

Kolnitys is impressed but not fazed by the Holland team's incredible success this season.

"Their record speaks for itself," the Wayne coach said. "They have an excellent team, but if we do the things I know that we are capable of, we will be in that battle. Believe me."

The way Wayne went about destroying Lincoln Park in the regional championship game Saturday afternoon would convince anyone the Zebras have the power to respect.

They were on visual display Saturday at Wayne Memorial for everyone to review. And some 500 fans took the opportunity to see excellent volleyball.

It's unfortunate, however, the Wayne coach has not seen Holland this season.

"They are on the west side of the state," she said. "Our paths don't cross."

They definitely will Friday night. The winner of the quarterfinal will advance to the semifinals. The semis are scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Saturday with the state championship scheduled to be played at 6 p.m.

Back to the regionals.

The Zebras' first victim was Dearborn. The Zebras trampled the Pioneers 15-9 and 15-8 as Vicki Pohruff had an outstanding match. She accounted for 10 kills, three solo blocks and "stood out," according to her coach.

Defensively, the regional champs received a sterling contribution from Kathie Corwin.

In the finals, the Zebras wasted little time with Lincoln Park as they pounded home a first-game victory 15-5, then wiped their opponents off the floor and out of the regionals with a 15-3 second-set victory.

Brandy Caincross chipped in with 11 kills and five solo blocks, Denise Walsh came up with 11 digs and passed the ball well, while setter Laura Fisher also was in the spotlight, setting up her teammates for the deadly kills.

Despite the overwhelming two-match victory in the regional, Kolnitys refrained from the superlatives.

Registration open for little league

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

The snow has melted, the birds have started to sing and the Detroit Tigers have returned to Lakeland, Fla. Sure signs that spring has arrived.

And in spring, thoughts turn to baseball.

Say goodbye to hockey. So long to volleyball and wrestling. Good riddance to cabin fever.

The Wayne Baseball Association would like to welcome spring by announcing registration for the 1991 baseball season.

Registration has already begun so the time to act is now.

There are programs available for youngsters of all ages.

The Wayne program starts with the T-Ball league, for children aged 5 to 6 years old and continues with leagues all the way up to the Palamino's for those aged 17 and 18. Aug. 1st is the date used to determine age. (For instance, a youngster who will be 12 until August 1 would play in the Bronco league for those aged 11 and 12.)

There is also a special incentive to play ball this year. The price of baseball has actually gone down.

Registration will be staged at the Wayne Community Center on the following dates:

- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 9
- 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. March 13
- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 16
- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. March 23
- 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. March 27
- 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. April 6

There is a $10 late fee for registration after the above dates, so don't wait. Choose one of the earlier dates and avoid the rush.

Registration is simple. All you need to bring is a birth certificate.

The program is open to all, including non-residents.

Fees range from $10 to $20, according to age.

What better way to enjoy the return of beautiful Michigan spring weather than to get out and play ball?

The league also has openings for umpires. If you are at least 16 years old and are interested in umpiring, contact Pete at 728-0755.

For further information about registration information, contact Jeff Aver at 292-4175.

Spring and baseball fever are right around the corner. Registration is open for little-league baseball teams. ANP file photo

This ad will reach 728,812 suburban households.
In The Detroit News, it would reach only 303,354.

This ad is running in more than this newspaper alone. It's running in every one of the 50 Detroit suburban newspapers in a network called SPRING.

SPRING (The Suburban Press RING) is the network of all suburban newspapers published by the Adams, Associated, Heritage, Observer & Eccentric and Hometown groups.

SPRING delivers advertisers a single, extremely effective way to reach as many as 728,812 households in Detroit's affluent suburbs, more than twice the 303,354 you can reach in the daily News—and approximately twice the 368,877 you can reach in the Free Press.

Best of all is the price—SPRING's rate for inserts is just $23 per thousand—approximately half the published CPMs of the DNA and ADVO—and our ROP CPMs are lower, too.

And you place just one order, deal with one rep, provide one set of ROP copy or art, and get one invoice.

All of which is why a lot of advertisers, looking for ways to get more for less, are finding and using SPRING. How about you?

Local women serve as role models

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Any time is the right time to pursue a college education, according to a pair of Van Buren Township municipal employees.

During regular business hours, Sharry Budd performs the duties of bookkeeper in the clerk's office, and, across the hall, Sharon Kennedy serves as secretary for the police department. Two nights each week, the two women study human ecology at the Western Campus of Wayne County Community College, and take a step closer to realizing their goals of obtaining college degrees.

"I only need another three classes to graduate with a liberal arts degree," Kennedy said. "It's been hard finding time to work, attend school and do everything else, but I have a very supportive family. They've given me a lot of help at home."

Budd, who also serves on the Van Buren Public Schools Board of Education, found the pressure of her many duties was a difficult one, particularly when the selection of a new school superintendent prompted numerous extra board meetings.

Both Budd and Kennedy chose the WCCC Western Campus to expand their educations because of its location. With their busy schedules, a long, time-consuming drive to another college would have been very difficult, they said.

A fringe benefit of their college experiences has been an added interest in education, which has extended to other members of their families.

"My youngest son once told me he didn't have time for homework, but he can't say that now when he sees that I have homework to do. It's a real challenge for all of us. In fact, we're trying to figure out which one of us will graduate first," said Budd, who has one son slated to graduate from college this spring, another who has already graduated and one who is a high school junior.

Kennedy has two children, a son who is a high school senior, and a daughter who is a college freshman.

"I find that some of the science work that my daughter is doing is similar to what I've covered in my classes, so we have something in common," Kennedy said. "Sometimes, we do our homework together."

The two women find that they are typical of students who attend the WCCC Western Campus.

"Many of our fellow students also are mature women who have returned to school after several years, or are displaced homemakers," Budd said. "In fact, I see a trend toward an increasing number of older students at the campus. When I took my first class, I thought I was older than the average student, but now they seem to be catching up to me."

In their current classes, many students are in their 40s and 50s, Budd and Kennedy said.

Belleville resident Mary Peters, who is a nursing student, was also attracted to the campus because of its location.

"I'm in my second semester. I'm taking English and anthropology, and I plan to transfer to a four-year college when I receive my associate's degree," Peters said. "It has made things easier for me during these first two years to attend college classes close to home."

BEGORRA

Can it be true? Is there nothing good to be said for the Irish? Say it isn't so.

Sunday will mark the one day of the year when everyone is just a little bit Irish and all will evince a sincere appreciation for St. Patrick who allegedly drove those awful snakes off the Emerald Isle.

And, as for ethnic dishes to represent this nation, while they may be more difficult to find than say, pasta recipes, there are a few Irish traditions other than corned beef and cabbage to disprove the contention that the Irish can't cook.

No, the Irish are special people and always have been. They seem to bear the slings and arrows heaved at them by others with good humor and readily admit to being a bit vulnerable to a wee spot of drink now and again.

If it weren't for the Irish, where would we find the luck attributed to four-leaf clovers? How would we know what is waiting at the end of the rainbow for us and could the world have gotten along this far without Irish leprechauns?

Sure, there are Irish poets and authors and a painter or two, but the real contribution of this group seems to be the celebration of St. Patrick's birthday. This is a day when everyone seems willing to claim at least a tad of Irish blood and is willing to at least try something as disgusting as green beer.

As for contributions to the culinary arts, there's always Irish soda bread, but many swear that recipe is markedly similar to the one used for communion wafers. To help prepare our readers for the annual celebration of Irish culture, here are just a few easy Irish treats which can be prepared at home to delight Irishmen of all nationalities and ages.

Father O'Brien's chocolate cake

2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter, softened
1 3/4 cups granulated sugar
2 eggs, lightly beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup sour cream
1 cup boiling water

Position rack in lower third of oven and preheat to 325 degrees. Grease a 10 x 4-inch tube pan or a 12-cup bundt pan and dust with flour.

In a medium bowl, whisk or stir together flour, baking soda and salt. Set aside. In a large bowl, and using electric beaters, cream butter until light and smooth. Add sugar in several additions, beating until mixture is light and fluffy. Gradually add eggs, beating until mixture has the consistency of lightly whipped cream. Beat in vanilla and melted chocolate.

Using a large rubber spatula, alternately stir in dry ingredients and sour cream, beginning and ending with dry ingredients and blending well after each addition. Add the boiling water all at once, stirring until well blended. Pour batter into prepared pan, spreading evenly.

Bake 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove pan to wire rack. Cool 15 minutes before loosening cake from pan with a knife and removing. Finish cooling right side up on rack. Dust with confectioners' sugar just before serving.

Erin jam cake

2 cups all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
10 tablespoons unsalted butter
1 cup granulated sugar
3 large eggs
1 cup strawberry jam
1/2 cup buttermilk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour two 9-inch round layer pans. Sift together all dry ingredients except sugar. Cream sugar and butter together in large bowl until soft and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time and continue beating until well blended. Add jam, half the dry ingredients, buttermilk and remaining dry ingredients in order. Pour and scrape the batter into the prepared pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until the cakes spring back with lightly touched in the center. Cool in the pans eight minutes. Turn out to cool, right side up, on wire racks. Frost and fill with strawberry icing.

Strawberry icing

4 tablespoons unsalted butter
3 ounces cream cheese
3 tablespoons strawberry jam
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
3 1/4 cups (1 pound) confectioners' sugar

Beat butter and cream cheese together until light and fluffy and then blend in jam and lemon juice. Gradually add confectioners' sugar and beat well. Add additional lemon juice, if needed, to make the icing of spreading consistency.

Shillelagh cake

2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter, softened
1 3/4 cups granulated sugar
5 eggs, separated
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1/3 cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
2/3 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/3 cup poppy seeds
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

Position rack in lower third of oven and preheat to 350 degrees. Grease a 12-cup bundt pan or a 10 x 4-inch tube pan and dust with flour.

In a medium bowl, whisk or stir together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside. In a large bowl, and using electric beaters, cream butter until light and smooth. Add sugar in several additions, beating until mixture is light and fluffy. Add yolks, one at a time, beating until mixture is light, smooth and fluffy. Stir vanilla into lemon juice and slowly pour into butter mixture. Beat until well blended. Using a rubber spatula, alternately stir in dry ingredients and milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients and blending well after each addition. Stir in peel and poppy seeds.

In a separate bowl and using clean beaters, beat whites until frothy and add cream of tartar and beat until whites stand in stiff, moist, shiny peaks. Fold one third of the whites into the batter. Fold in remaining whites. Pour batter into prepared pan, spreading evenly. Bake 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove pan to wire rack. Cool 15 minutes before loosening cake from pan with a knife and removing. Finish cooling right side up on rack. Dust with confectioners' sugar.

Candidates eye 11th District Commission seat

The following is a list of candidates for the 11th District Wayne County Commission seat. The primary election will be staged March 19.

Robert Beeny (D)

Wayne City Councilman Robert Beeny seeks the Democratic candidacy for the open 11th District Wayne County Commission seat March 19.

Beeny, 44, has served on the Wayne City Council for nine years. He previously was a member of the city planning commission.

If elected, Beeny hopes to eliminate much of the solid waste presently going to the incinerator by setting up a program that would sort waste materials at the facility.

Another key issue with Beeny is the condition of county roads. He would like to see more dollars spent on road improvement projects in western Wayne County.

During the past year, jet noise at Detroit Metropolitan Airport has become a bone of contention with many 11th District citizens. Noise abatement has become even more defined with the planned expansion at the airport.

"I don't think you can guarantee that there will be no noise, because the Federal Aviation Administration has the final word," he said. "But there are some things that can be done to eliminate ground noise."

Beeny suggested building additional hangars, called hush huts, which would absorb noise.

Other noise abatement solutions, according to Beeny, would include using quieter aircraft and evenly distributed take-off patterns.

Jim Poole (R)

Former Canton Township Supervisor Jim Poole (R-Canton) seeks the Republican nomination for Wayne County Commissioner in the 11th District.

If elected, Poole would work as a full-time commissioner for residents.

Poole, 60, served as township supervisor from 1980 to 1988 and township trustee from 1972 to 1976.

He lists the environment and road conditions as the two major issues in his campaign.

He applauds the current Wayne County Solid Waste Management Plan, hoping to see many communities comply with the plan by implementing curbside recycling programs.

To stop pollution, Poole recommends a combination of measures, including incineration, recycling and stopping the production of styrofoam and other non-degradable products.

The 20-year Canton resident and retired U.S. Air Force major says the population increase in western Wayne County prompts the need for infrastructure improvements.

"As commissioner, I would meet regularly with elected officials and I would ask them to meet monthly to discuss common and individual needs," Poole said.

Warren George Troy (D)

Warren George Troy (D-Canton) considers himself an independent and has his own ideas about running county government.

Troy, 52, is a Wayne-Westland vocational education teacher with 27 years experience.

The population increase in some western Wayne County communities has created a strain on roads and drains, he said.

To tackle the problem, Troy has devised the following five-point plan to generate more revenue for road improvement projects:

- Change the Detroit Metropolitan Airport from a break-even to a profit-making entity.

- Cap salaries of top county officials at $75,000.

- Return half of the commissioner's $41,000 salary to the county, since it's a part-time job.

- Eliminate the Wayne County Jobs and Economic Development Department.

- Cancel the county's engineering contract to create a renovation plan for Tiger Stadium.

John F. McCarthy (R)

A consultant from Rockwood promises an independent attitude and honest representation to the constituents of the 11th District.

John F. McCarthy (R-Rockwood) is one of three Republican candidates vying for the Wayne County Commission post.

The environment and budgetary concerns are high on the list for this candidate. McCarthy said as a commissioner he would work with the commission and individual communities to implement the solid-waste plan for the county.

"Recycling, reusing and some people would even accept incineration as an option for relieving the landfills," he said.

McCarthy said McNamara has done an exemplary job in handling the county budget, but disagrees with recent discussion of raising revenue bonds for the renovation of Tiger Stadium.

Thomas M. Hartnett (D)

Thomas M. Hartnett (D-Canton) feels it's time to give something back to the community.

A special assistant prosecuting attorney of the Wayne County Friend of the Court, Hartnett, 44, seeks the Democratic nomination for county commissioner March 19.

"I am an advocate. I enjoy getting services for people," he said. Hartnett has worked on the "I CARE" millage campaign for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

As commissioner, he would prioritize road improvements in the 11th District.

He said the county should use more consultants to determine the county road needs, especially in the south end of the 11th District.

In Canton, Hartnett says Lilley and Haggerty roads need paving.

Although he supports airport expansion, Hartnett would consult with FAA officials so standards are met.

Shirley Poling

Shirley Poling, the interim Wayne County Commissioner for the 11th District, wants to give district residents a responsive and reasonable county government.

Poling, who has filled former commissioner Milt Mack's vacancy since Dec. 20, is on sabbatical from the General Motors Hydra-Matic plant in Ypsilanti.

As commissioner, Poling wants an audit done on the county road department, which commands a $44-million budget, to review management practices so taxpayers' money is spent wisely.

The economical development of a community hinges on good infrastructure, so she recommends prioritizing road and drain improvement projects.

She cites Sumpter Township as a community with drain problems which affect the quality of roads.

Poling wants airport officials to comply with noise abatement measures, so all communities in the district have relief from excessive aircraft noise.

She recommends the following to limit noise:

- Build insulated hangars.
- Create a curfew to limit ground run-up noise.
- Eliminate the louder stage-two aircraft.

Bryan Aman (D)

Assistant Wayne County Executive Brian Amann has earned valuable experience as the county-appointed noise czar.

He is hoping to use that experience in hopes of becoming the 11th District Wayne County Commissioner.

An assistant to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, Amann, 33, is betting on strong Democratic support to select him March 19 in the primary election. The election for county commissioner is May 7.

"As long as communities meet the objectives of the adopted Wayne County Solid Waste Plan, they may select their own recycling initiative," Amann said in an earlier interview.

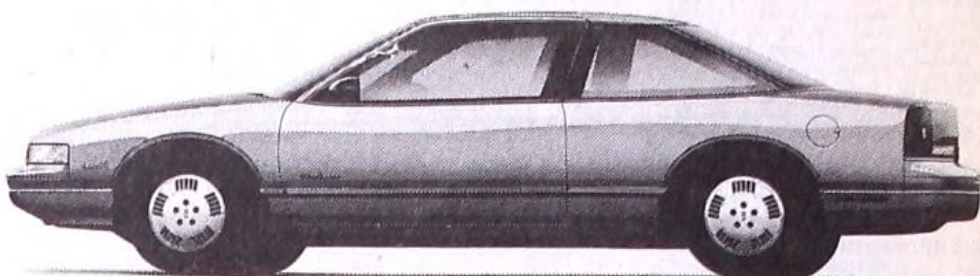

Amann's goals include maintenance of county roads in 11th-District communities.

"Before we fix roads, we must fix the drains," he said.

Amann also would like to reduce property taxes, build a bridge of communication between the executive and commissioners and reduce noise levels in the county.

"The commission has to be vigilant to have the airport grow responsible, such as guarding against ground run-up noise," Amann said earlier. "None of my opponents know how to deliver on this."
